

Contents

Preface

Introduction

(I) The Developing Idea and Practice of International Criminal Justice in the Context of State Sovereignty and Individual Responsibility

1. Preliminary remarks
  - a. Obstacles to the establishment of a genuine system of international criminal justice
  - b. International criminal justice: the task of legal philosophy
  - c. National sovereignty and universal jurisdiction
  - d. The requirement of an international separation of powers
  - e. Power versus law in the context of the United Nations and the position of the International Criminal Court
2. The rationale of universal jurisdiction
3. The dilemma of international criminal justice in the framework of state-centered international law: The question of enforcement
4. Efforts towards international criminal justice since the 19th century
  - a. Historical overview up to the Nürnberg and Tokyo tribunals
  - b. World War II: Kelsen's alternative proposal
  - c. Post-Cold War developments
5. Methods and practices of international criminal justice: A critical appraisal
  - a. Universal jurisdiction through national courts
    - aa. Obligations of states under international conventions and the problem of conflicting national jurisdictions
    - bb. The judgment of the International Court of Justice (2002) and its implications for the exercise of universal jurisdiction by national courts: the case of Belgium
    - cc. The potential bias of national courts in issues of universal jurisdiction: the case of the U.S. air raids on Libya in 1986
  - b. Special domestic courts on the basis of international (intergovernmental) agreements
    - aa. The Scottish Court in the Netherlands (Lockerbie Court)
    - bb. The Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia (Khmer Rouge trials)
  - c. A special international court established by agreement between the United Nations and a member state (The Sierra Leone model)
  - d. Ad hoc tribunals established by military alliances or by the UN Security Council

- aa. Post-World War II military tribunals
    - α. The question of the legal nature of the tribunals: the problem of victors' justice
    - β. Lauterpacht's idealistic vision of war crimes tribunals as instruments of universal jurisdiction
  - bb. Ad hoc tribunals established by the Security Council
  - e. The International Criminal Court – A paradigm change in international criminal law?
    - aa. Questions of competence and procedure
    - bb. The status of the ICC in the context of international power politics
    - cc. Definitional problems
      - α. General observations
      - β. Law versus politics: the nuclear issue
      - γ. Other definitional issues
    - dd. The ICC's assertion of authority vis-à-vis national governments and the Security Council
      - α. The lack of supranational mechanisms of enforcement and the problem of "legal anarchy"
      - β. The rejection of jurisdiction by the United States – Conflict between the Rome Statute and international treaty law?
      - γ. The restriction of jurisdiction by virtue of a resolution of the United Nations Security Council
6. Problems of the application of universal jurisdiction by the ICC under the conditions of a unipolar world order

(II) Humanitarian Intervention in the Context of Modern Power Politics

1. The concept of humanitarian intervention and its historical background
2. The development of international law and the prohibition of the use of force in the 20th century
3. The revival of interventionism in the new imperial order of the 21st century
4. The doctrine of humanitarian intervention and the de facto reintroduction of the jus ad bellum
5. The renaissance of power politics in humanitarian clothes – The end of international law?

(III) The United Nations, the International Rule of Law and Terrorism

1. The United Nations Organization in the global power constellation
2. Obstacles to the enforcement of the international rule of law in a unipolar power structure
3. The dilemma faced by the United Nations in the fight against terrorism
4. The history of United Nations codification efforts and measures against terrorism
5. The way out of the dilemma: Comprehensive definition of terrorism by means of integration into existing instruments of international humanitarian law and international criminal law
6. The conditions for a consistent anti-terrorist policy of the United Nations

(IV) Annex

1. Memorandum on the Indictments by the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia (1999)
2. International criminal justice and power politics: The Lockerbie case (UN observer reports)
  - a. Report on and evaluation of the Lockerbie trial (3 February 2001)
  - b. Report on the appeal proceedings (26 March 2002)
3. The Baku Declaration on Global Dialogue and Peaceful Co-Existence Among Nations and the Threats Posed by International Terrorism (2001)

Bibliography

Legal instruments, conventions, decisions and documents related to issues of international law, with an emphasis on international criminal law and international humanitarian law

Bibliographical references

Index of names

Index of subjects

Glossary of acronyms

Selected publications by Hans Köchler in the field of international relations